Self-esteem, conflict resolution, and sub-stance awareness for young children.

With a unique combination of original songs, hand shadows, circus arts and audience participation, Rick Adam's spellbinding performance takes a caring look at growing up and believing in one's self. This uplifting and thoroughly entertaining program boosts self-esteem and empowers children to make positive choices regarding smoking, drinking, drug use, and resolving conflicts.

The performance is made up of a series of original songs and skits written and performed by Rick Adam. Audiences learn how invention, intelligence and imagination can solve any problem. An open forum is used. Audience members give input to address the issues of substance awareness, conflict resolution, and self-esteem. Also by combining positive songs with catchy melodies, audiences walk away with tunes as tools that will last a lifetime.

RICK ADAM has been performing, teaching, and inspiring people of all ages for over 20 years. He has combined his extensive theatrical and musical experience and training with his own life experience to create original theatrical performances that both educate and entertain. Adam has toured widely, from elementary schools to colleges to maximum security prisons, from Rhode Island to Russia. He has acted with the Trinity Square Repertory Company and has appeared in films and on television. He was recently featured on a PBS special on one-man bands in America, which is now in the permanent collection of the Smithsonian Institute.
